

Arts & Humanities
Research Council

Queen's University
Belfast

Partnership for
Conflict, Crime &
Security Research

REVOLT IN THE SQUARE SEMINAR: SPATIAL MODELLING OF CONFLICT AND URBAN CONDITIONS

1 June 2018

University House

9.00am – 5.30pm

University of Leeds

Opening Address

Professor Muhammed Basheer

Head of School of Civil Engineering
University of Leeds, UK

Keynote Speakers

Professor Paul Routledge

School of Geography
University of Leeds, UK

Professor Wendy Pullan

Department of Architecture
University of Cambridge, UK

Dr Nils W. Metternich

Department of Political Science
University College London, UK

The seminar is organised in the context of the “Revolt in the Square: Spatial Modelling of Urban Stability” research project funded by AHRC. Speakers will explore the way digital mapping and modelling of urban unrest can contribute to an understanding of protest movements and urban stability.

Speakers are specialist researchers, scholars and policy makers, architects, graphic designers, data analysts, geographers and urban designers.

This is a free event.

Please register here to attend the seminar:

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/spatial-modelling-of-conflict-and-urban-conditions-tickets-45197229129>

For general inquiries: contact Dr Gehan Selim g.selim@leeds.ac.uk

Project Website: <https://www.revoltinthesquare.org>