

Integrated Care Provision for Drug and Alcohol Misuse

Within their 'community offer', some Local Authorities are now commissioning integrated care for people with drug and/or alcohol misuse problems

These services are not restricted to any particular type(s) of service user, substance misuse problem, or level of severity of need

An example of integrated care from our case study interviews included the following components:

Services are also starting to look at wider health care, including tobacco and physical activity, and long term conditions
